Circle the topic you wish to focus on during the video. In point form, record any information that has to do with your topic in that section. Fill in the other sections during the discussion after the video.

The form is a line drawing of a traditional Chinese hat, divided into three horizontal sections. The top section is a small, rounded cap with a central arched area. The middle section is a wide, flat band. The bottom section is a larger, flared brim with a decorative, scalloped edge. Each section contains text indicating a topic for discussion.
